Charleston has not always been the prime and proper "Holy City." In fact, there was a time when it was downright bawdy. Mark Jones, Charleston native and tour guide who has written a book about this time in Charleston's history, will lead us on a tour, enlightening us with fascinating, but little known facts, about the city.

In addition to experiencing the wicked side of Charleston, we will also enjoy the beautiful side with lunch in the elegant dining room of the Mills House. The historic hotel, known for its exquisite crystal chandeliers and marble floors, is close to art galleries and upscale boutiques for shopping.

All-inclusive cost (transportation, tours, lunch, entrance fees, tips) $92. Depart from the St Francis parking lot at 8 am; arrive back between 6 & 6:30 pm. Trip based on a minimum of 30 people. Deadline to sign up – March 1.
